

Content and language integrated learning - BAfEP Linz

The study - Method

- Qualitative study / Causal - Comparative study
 - Work with existing classes
 - See whether one variable causes a change in another (Clil approach – language outcome)
- Dependant variable: language achievement
- Independent variable: CLIL method in PE-, Psychology-, and History- lessons over a period of 4 years
 - Non-CLIL will be defined as having a teacher presenting the same concepts and topics using the German language

Participants

- Control extraneous variables
 - Only females, 18 year olds
 - Same language background
 - Same English language teacher
 - Control group: 39 students
 - Experimental group: 30 students
- 30 Clil and 39 non-Clil students

Method - Assessment

- English exam 4th grade – 100 minutes
 - Listening task
 - Reading task
 - Use of English task
 - Writing task
- Comprehension competence
- general language understanding
- Writing competence
- Assessed by points – Cloze tests
 - Writing task assessed by points using the Assessment Scale B2
 - F- test (Variance) and T- Test (significance)

Data analyses & interpretation

- Listening - highly significant
- Reading - significant
- Use of English - highly significant
- Writing - not significant
- Total scores - highly significant

Limitation of the study

- Doesn't speak to the external facts affecting
 - IQ of the students
 - Different L2 proficiency when entering BAfEP
 - Time spent on studying for the exam
 - Especially use of English task
- Only one school is considered here

Conclusion/ further Questions

- Clil - effects on the listening, reading and use of English skills, but no significant effects on writing skills
- Similar outcome HTL study (Jexenflixer, 2009)
- Other subjects taught with Clil method, native speaker vs subject teachers
- Male participants
- Subject outcome
- Quantitative study – Questionnaire “students attitude towards Clil”

“How future kindergarten teachers think about CLIL:
Students’ opinions on CLIL in an Austrian vocational upper secondary school (BAfEP)”

Questionnaire

- The survey was administered on 2nd of Dec. 2016
- 130 questionnaires
- Analysed with SPSS (computer software)
- Seven different categories
- Each category consist of 4-6 items focusing on the same issue

categories

- Reasons for choosing Clil
- Personal opinions on Clil
- Language skills
- Content knowledge
- Classroom atmosphere
- Structure and organisation of the lessons
- Teacher – student – relationship

Students attitude towards Clil

(20) I think CLIL students are better prepared for their school leaving exams (Matura) than the non-CLIL parallel classes

(22) CLIL teaching is more fun than regular lessons

(30) I would like to have more CLIL lessons

(33) I like the alternation of German and English as a working language

(45) CLIL lessons are more exhausting than regular lessons

(47) I have to concentrate more in CLIL lessons to understand the topics

Effects on language proficiency

	rather agree	strongly agree
Clil makes it easier to talk to other people in English	43,80 %	19, 20 %
Clil makes me feel safer when communicating in English	40,80 %	19,20 %
Clil helps me to make myself understood in English spontaneously	39,30 %	21,50%
My English language skills have improved considerable through Clil	43,10 %	13,10 %

Effects on Content Knowledge

(19) English as the working language makes it more difficult to understand complicated topics

(24) In CLIL teaching less content knowledge can be conveyed, as English makes it more difficult

(35) CLIL classes cover the same amount of subject content as non-CLIL parallel classes

(37) I find it easy to explain CLIL content in German as well as English

(39) I can easily understand topics in CLIL lessons, even though they are explained in English

(43) I find it hard to learn something in English first and then having to explain it in German

- 63,8 % think it is harder to understand complicated topics
- + a similar number of students indicate that they can easily understand topics
- + more than 2/3 of the students think the same amount of content can be dealt with in Clil and regular classes

Effects on classroom atmosphere and Teacher-Student - Relationship

- Nearly 80% of students agree that they can always talk to their Clil teacher about things they do not understand.
 - More than 60% of students disagreed with the following statements:
 - Speaking E during the lesson and making mistakes is embarrassing for me
 - In Clil lessons I rather dare ask questions
- This shows the majority of learners does not perceive Clil lessons to be different from regular lessons

Learners' perception of the structural and organisational aspects of the lessons

Item No.	strongly disagree (0)	rather disagree (1)	neither agree nor disagree (2)	rather agree (3)	strongly agree (4)	Median

42	38.50%	20.00%	34.60%	6.90%	0.00%	1

(26) CLIL lessons are more diversified and varied than regular German lessons

(28) I think that CLIL lessons are particularly well organised and planned

(34) CLIL teaching often appears to me as chaotic and unstructured

(36) In CLIL lessons communication plays a more important role than in regular lessons

(42) I feel that I have more right to co-create the lessons in CLIL lessons than in regular lessons

Students' reflection

Table 11: Students' Responses to the Question "Would You Choose CLIL Again?"

Group	Yes	No
voluntary	84.5%	14.5%
involuntary	38.5%	61.5%

Table 12: Students' Responses to the Question "How Satisfied Are You With CLIL?"

Group	very satisfied	rather satisfied	rather unsatisfied	very unsatisfied
voluntary	22.2%	66.7%	10.3%	0.9%
involuntary	0%	61.5%	30.8%	7.7%

Conclusion

- S sind begeistert von Clil → weiter machen 😊
- Freiwilligkeit in der Wahl von Clil
- Bilinguales Material verwenden, erstellen
- Unterrichtsstoff langsam erarbeiten und verständlich aufbereiten
- Mehr Arbeitsblätter und Erklärungen (zweisprachig)
- Mehr “writing tasks” in den Unterricht einbauen
- Zusammenarbeit mit den EnglischlehrerInnen (Welche Tasks sind angebracht)
 - Päd.: physical development - Englisch: linking words & time connectors → Write a summary about the physical development using different time connectors and linking words!
